

WCD to Present at 2008 Construction Super Conference

Pennington, NJ, November 18, 2008—WCD is scheduled to speak at the 2008 Construction SuperConference in San Francisco on Thursday, December 11th at 11:00 AM.

The title of the presentation is Development & Construction on Contaminated Properties; Risks and Rewards, and explores the technical, legal, regulatory, and business risks associated with the development of contaminated properties (aka Brownfield Sites), and the renovation and restoration of contaminated buildings. As urban re-development is becoming more active in the older eastern cities, most attractive locations and existing structures have an environmental challenge. The speakers will provide the owner, developer, and contractor's attorney with a roadmap for moving forward with these projects, while reducing and insuring the risk, protecting the client, and maximizing return.

Speakers include industry experts in environmental engineering, law, insurance, and finance. The session will be moderated by Rick Gimello, Sr. Vice President, WCD, and former Deputy Commissioner, NJDEP Brownfields Program and Executive Committee, National Brownfields Association. Additional panel members will include: Chip D'Angelo, President, WCD Group; John O'Brien, President & COO, AIG Environmental; Carter Reid, Esq., Watt, Tieder, Hoffar & Fitzgerald LLP; and Anthony Slimowicz, Esq., WCD Capital Partners LLC.

"We're very pleased to have the opportunity to participate in such a prestigious conference," stated Chip D'Angelo, President of WCD Group. "We believe the content of our presentation will further demonstrate the integration between the construction and environmental industries," D'Angelo continued.

The Construction SuperConference is recognized as the leading legal construction symposium worldwide.
