

WCD Group Merges In EMTEQUE Corporation Creating more comprehensive environmental consulting, remediation, and risk management solutions

Pennington, NJ, November 21, 2011—WCD Group, LLC is pleased to announce the completion of a merger with Emteque Corporation, making Emteque the newest member of the WCD Group of Companies. Emteque's strong technical capabilities and established presence in New York City complements the WCD service offerings and geography. "Adding Emteque to our group of firms allows WCD to deliver a wider and deeper array of environmental risk management solutions to our customers," commented Wm. Chip D'Angelo, President and CEO of the WCD Group. "This merger is consistent with our growth plans," D'Angelo continued.

Emteque is well known in New York City for its high quality service and professionalism, and the merger enhances this level of performance and quality for its customer base. "We are pleased to be a part of WCD," said Eric Telemaque, who will remain as President of Emteque. "The Principals and senior staff of our two companies have worked together since 1987," continued Mr. Telemaque. "Building on this existing relationship just makes sense for both companies, allowing for rapid integration and sharing of complementary resources, which can only benefit our clients."

The new organization created by this merger will be called Emteque, LLC, a WCD Group Company.
